

IUCN
WORLD PARKS
CONGRESS
SYDNEY 2014

Building Socio-Ecological Resilience in Southeast Asia

November 13, 2014

IUCN
WORLD PARKS
CONGRESS
SYDNEY 2014

This session will highlight progress that has been made with assessing the vulnerability of Mekong freshwater and coastal biodiversity and livelihoods to climate change and developing adaptation responses and the design and development of MPA network in the Andaman Sea.

Key Speakers: Petch Manopawitr and Jake Bruner (Deputies, IUCN Southeast Asia Group), Kimsreng Kong (Senior Programme Officer, IUCN Cambodia), Raphael Glemet (NRG Group)

Chair: Robert Mather

IUCN
WORLD PARKS
CONGRESS
SYDNEY 2014

Agenda

1. Introduction: 4 mins (Robert Mather)
2. Lao PDR: Climate change vulnerability assessment and adaptation planning on Beung Kiat Ngong Ramsar Site, Lao PDR: 12 mins (Raphel Glemet)
3. Cambodia: Peam Krasop Wildlife Sanctuary management plan: 12 mins (Kimsreng Kong)
4. Viet Nam: Ca Mau organic shrimp; Melaleuca T-fences: 12 mins (Jake Bruner)
5. Thailand-Myanmar Building Ecosystem resilience through the development of Andaman MPA network: 12 mins (Petch Manopawitr)
6. Moderated Q&A on key challenges and opportunities for community-based approaches combined with nature-based solution to response to climate change impacts: 30 mins. (Moderated by Robert)
7. Wrap up and major conclusions: 8 mins.

IUCN
WORLD PARKS
CONGRESS
SYDNEY 2014

Major conclusions and recommendations