

IUCN
WORLD PARKS
CONGRESS
SYDNEY 2014

Adaptive Governance for Resilient Protected Areas - preparing for the challenges ahead -

Workshop 4.1 - Stream 6, Governance

Objective WS 4.1:

Introduce resilience and adaptive governance in the context of PA and see how this might inspire thinking, management planning and practice

Mike Jones: why is resilience is important for park management

Hannah Gosnell: adaptive governance: - how does it contributes to building park resilience

Discussion Groups

Group A: Marine/ Seascapes:Group B: Indigenous Governance

Group C: Adaptive Governance Parks in Landscapes

Group D: Landscapes (OECMs?)

plenary discussion - What do we take forward to workshop 4.4

Wrap up

Discussants

genthart, ASI Conserva Chile A.G, Chile

Marian Vernon, Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem, US

Working groups

- Group A: Marine/ Seascapes:
 - Gildas Andriamalala, Marc Stern, Alifereti Tawake
- Group B: Indigenous Governance:
 - Fidaa Haddad, Steve Roeger, Brian Child
- Group C: Adaptive Governance Parks in Landscapes:
 - Susan Moore, Andrew Nixon, Marian Vernon
- Group D: Landscapes (OECMs?):
 - Kevin Evans, Clara Bocchino, Elisa Corcuera

Working Groups

Guiding Questions:

- 1. Do the resilience/AG concepts add anything new to your work or are they just new ways of talking about something that has been in place for a long time?
 <<< anything new?
- 2. Would you do anything differently if you applied the resilience/AG concepts to your work?
 <<<how to apply new thinking?
- 3. How do you overcome the challenges that you face in your work on resilience and governance<<< how to overcome challenges?
- 4. Any recommendations for future action (WPC and beyond)
 <<< recommendations