

The background of the image is a light blue surface covered with numerous water droplets of various sizes. The droplets are in sharp focus, showing their rounded, spherical shapes and the way they reflect light. The overall effect is a clean, fresh, and slightly abstract texture.

In the end we preserve only what we love,
We love what we understand,
We understand what we are taught.

Therefore,
If we are Taught, we can Understand,
When we Understand, we can Love,
When we Love, we will Preserve
